ABOUT STEPHANIE

Stephanie has been passionate about dance for the past 18 years. She grew up dancing in San Antonio, Texas. Stephanie was introduced to bachata, salsa, and merengue at the age of three and a half and later transitioned to jazz, ballet, hip hop, and pom. She continued dancing in high school and was selected captain of the varsity dance team her senior year. Stephanie moved on to double major in dance education and performance and choreography at Texas State University and danced collegiately for the Texas State Strutters. She was taught ballet under Christa Oliver, specifically the Cecchetti ballet method. Meanwhile, she performed under the direction of Ashley Craddock at the Sea World in San Antonio. Her favorite genres are jazz, ballet and hip hop. Since Stephanie's love of dance started at a very young age, she would like to help other children find that spark and fall in love with the art to carry on for a lifetime. She is currently the PE teacher at Condor Elementary and is excited to be a dance instructor with ASA.
